LingShan Grand Buddha

This park is famous for the world's largest bronze Buddha statue with an amazing height of 88 meters (289 feet). In addition, it features wonderful attractions including the Brahma Palace, Five Mudra Mandala, Nine Dragons Bathing Sakyamuni, Xiangfu Temple and many other Buddhist sites.

Couple's Retreat Garden

It is built based on the original Sheyuan Garden, which was constructed by Lu Jin in Qing Dynasty (1644-1911). The Couple's Retreat Garden is representative and outstanding among the classical gardens of Suzhou.

Oriental Salt Lake Resort

It is located in the Maoshan Tourism Resort in Jiangsu Province. It covers an area of 27.8 square kilometers and has an investment of over 10 billion yuan. It took six years to build. Oriental Salt Lake Resort inherits the essence of Chinese avenue culture and integrates the six natural resources of "Mountain, Water, Tea, Salt, Medicine and Spring" of the famous Taoist Mountain-Maoshan.

Nanjing Road is one of Shanghai's famous shopping streets and was one of the best built and busiest roads in the 1940's. The road stretches from the Bund east towards Hongqiao, with Shanghai's centre point People's Square in the middle.

ShangHai The Bund

For a century, the Bund has been one of the most recognizable symbols and the pride of Shanghai. The framework along the Bund is a living museum of the colonial history of the 1800s. You've never been to Shanghai if you haven't seen The Bund.

ShangHai World Financial Center

Invested more than USD 1 billion, the Shanghai World Financial Center close to Jinmao Tower, is designed mainly by the Mori Building Corporation from Japan and more than 40 other corporations. With 104 floors including three underground of a total 492 meters height, Shanghai World Financial Center is the second highest building in Shanghai.
