Huangguoshu Waterfall, also called Huangguoshu or Huangguoshu Falls, is the largest waterfall in Asia and the third largest waterfall in the world. It is without doubt to be Guizhou's number one natural attraction. Located on the Baishui River in Anshun, Guizhou (about 128 kilometers away from Guiyang), Huangguoshu National Park is centered at Huangguoshu Waterfall which is at 83 meters in width and 67 meters in height.

Wanfenglin (Forest of Ten Thousands Peaks), which is divided into east peak forest and west peak forest with different scenery, and it is a classic Karst landform. East peak forest is characterized by Karst peak cluster landform, and west peak forest is highland Karst landform. Due to grand and beautiful scenery and perfect style, Peak Forest has a sense of wonderland. It is as if you stepped into a scroll painting of green-grey peaks and golden fields and you may feel like entering a paradise.

The Maling River Canyon is a geological wonder, a 74km rift in the earth's surface caused by the surging Maling River and its groundwater. Paths down each side of the canyon and two suspension bridges allow you to do a loop of the valley, taking you past just some of the 100 waterfalls that crash down into the river below.

Xijiang Miao Village, also named 'China's Miao stockade village of one thousand households', is supposed to be the largest Miao Village in China. A continuous row of houses spreads in line of the hilly area. These houses are unique and grand under sunshine and verdant trees. Xijiang Miao Village, it was built up by more than 10 connected mountain village and is currently the biggest Miao village in China. In Xijiang, there is a famous silversmith village.

Situated in Libo County, Guizhou, XiaoQikong (Seven Small Arches Scenic Area) is a National Park included on the list of UNESCO World Heritage Sites. There is a bridge with seven arches spanning the Xiangshui River, hence the name. In this scenic area, you will find many attractions with stunning sights, including Wolong Lake, Yuanyang Lake, Laya Waterfall, and Toanzhong Cave. Besides, you will also find water forests on your Guizhou tours to Seven Small Arches.
