This museum serves as a bleak reminder of Vietnam's turbulent past, where thousands people photographs of former detainees and exhibits of brutal punishments. The prison is one of Phu Quoc Island's most iconic landmarks, attracting mostly former prisoners and foreign visitors looking to learn more about Vietnam's history.

Fingernail Island (Hon Mong Tay) - The very first glimpse that you get of Fingernail Island before you arrive there is just beyond words. The beach was just lonely and it just looked like a postcard image.

Fingernail Island is located south of Phu Quoc in the An Thoi Archipelago and is a rarely visited dream island. If you want to do a trip to Fingernail Island,

Hon Mong Tay in Vietnamese, then don't let yourself get confused by the local travel agencies. There are 2 islands with exactly the same name. The second Fingernail Island, which we will show you in this very article, is located south of Phu Quoc and is just heavenly.

Gam Ghi Island - is the privately owned island across from Hon Xuong that has a nice white sand beach. On the western side of the island lies a series of rocks that resemble a flower pot. In this island you can do snorkeling at coral reef & swimming.

Wildlife Park - Visitors get to experience the Wildlife Park via specialized vehicles in a very interesting manner where they're caged up rather than the animals themselves. The Wildlife Park spreading over a large area with an abundant plant system, meets the rigorous standards of the Safari model. Each subdivision in the park is a different habitat ensuring the suitability with biological behavior of each species. Open Zoo - The open zoo is cultivating and preserving rare native species and wildlife from specific geographic areas of the world such as South Africa, Europe, India and Australia.

Nguyen Trung Truc shrine @ Ganh Dao Beach dedicated to a Vietnamese fisherman turned patriot who established a guerrilla base here. The Vietnamese revere patriots the way Thais and Cambodians worship the monarchy, and Truc is a respected member of their pantheon of heroes.
